

Winter Gardening Classes

At The Master Peace Community Farm

Oct. 24th – Composting: Turn Your Garbage into Black Gold

- *how to cheaply build, quickly load, and easily manage a compost bin*
- *tips on how to use compost in your garden * how to compost with worms*

Nov. 14th – Community Gardening 101: How to Start and Manage a Community Garden in Your Neighborhood

- *tips on how to get land, funding, and community support*
- *learn about different ways to manage and organize a community garden*
- *learn everything from the best paths to the best rules and policies*

Dec. 19th – Film on the Farm: Watch and Discuss “The Garden”, a film about a farm in Los Angeles

- *watch this pivotal film about gardening, racial politics, and land ownership*
- *discussion afterwards about food justice and our community*

Jan. 23rd – Starting Seeds:

How to Save Money by Starting Your Own Seeds at Home

- *know what you’ll need to stop buying expensive seedlings*
- *how to start your seeds and keep them healthy in the winter*
- *what soils work best, and what ones to avoid using*

All Classes are 10:30 to Noon * $5 Donation Greatly Appreciated

62nd and Sheridan Street
Riverdale, MD

Need more information? Call 301-405-0656

The Master Peace Community Farm is a project of The Engaged University and The University of Maryland Extension.